

Reclaiming Our Humanity: Lessons of the Holocaust for Today

Part 1 of a 3-part series sponsored by the Raleigh-Cary Jewish Federation, the N.C. Council on the Holocaust, and in conjunction with the N.C. Department of Public

What: Part 1 of this 3-part series of programs will examine common beliefs and biases that often affect teacher and student ability to engage in necessary but difficult historical and current event conversations. This workshop will allow participants to explore instructional strategies designed to support anti-bias education and create supportive learning environments when the curriculum calls for teaching about difficult and controversial topics such as stereotypes, prejudice, racism, and antisemitism. This session will be interactive, reflective and collaborative, while building teacher capacity to create and sustain learning environments that develop and promote a more humane and informed group of citizens.

Who: For any teacher working with students in grades 6 thru 12

When: Friday, October 11, 2019 from 8:30 a.m.- 4:00 p.m.

Where: Temple Beth Or, 5315 Creedmoor Rd., Raleigh, NC

Cost: No cost to registered participants

Additional Details:

- Catered lunch will be provided for registered participants.
- A certificate of participation of up to 2.0 CEU credit hours will be awarded for any pre and post activities through Canvas as well as completion of the full day's workshop.
- The NC Council on the Holocaust will reimburse school districts for substitute teachers.
- Visit the website to register and to see the session agenda.

Register at <http://www.ncpublicschools.org/holocaust-council/> OR <https://ncholocaustcouncil.org/>

